Shimla is the capital of the Indian state of Himachal Pradesh, and is amongst the most popular tourist destination spots for the summer. It is known for its Victorian architecture, from the British days in India. (Since it formed the summer capital during the British Raj period in India.)

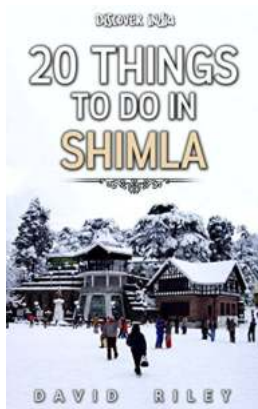

Shimla has a lot of things to offer; from snow-covered mountains to breath-taking lakes and alluring greenery. It is quite often nicknamed as the queen of hill-stations and has a sense of magic in its air that can make anyone fall in love with the city in an instant.

Apart from the many places to see in Shimla, it also consists of several weekend getaways in the form of Chail, Fagu and Kufri; as well as several other destinations, all in the midst of the beautiful Himachal valleys.

So read the book, pack your bags and see it all for yourself; and capture the beauty of Shimla with the most powerful lenses in the world, your eyes!
