

60 Years Involved In The Ups And The Downs And Still Enjoying The Ride

For six decades, I have been riding the rollercoaster of life, experiencing the highs and lows that come with it. From personal triumphs to professional setbacks, I have seen it all and yet, I find myself still enjoying every moment of this incredible journey.

Life is like a rollercoaster, full of twists and turns, ups and downs. It throws challenges at you when you least expect it and rewards you when you deserve it. It tests your resilience, determination, and character. And through it all, it teaches you valuable lessons that shape you into the person you become.

My journey began 60 years ago, when I took my first steps into the world of adulthood. Fresh out of college and brimming with enthusiasm, I was ready to conquer the world. Armed with dreams and ambitions, I embarked on my professional career.

The first few years were exhilarating, as I climbed the ladder of success with remarkable speed. I was unstoppable, driven by my passion and unwavering dedication. I achieved milestones and received accolades that propelled me forward, fueling my ambition further.

But as they say, what goes up must come down. The rollercoaster of life took a sudden dip, and I found myself facing a series of setbacks. A business venture failed, a personal relationship crumbled, and my confidence took a significant blow. It felt like my world was crashing down around me.

However, it is during these challenging moments that we discover our true strength. I refused to succumb to defeat and instead, used these setbacks as stepping stones towards growth. I embraced the lessons they taught me and rebuilt my foundation stronger than before.

One of the most valuable lessons I learned during this time was the power of perseverance. No matter how steep the climb or how dark the tunnel, I held on to my dreams and refused to let go. I realized that success is not always immediate or guaranteed, but it is always within reach for those who persist.

As the years went by, I rode the rollercoaster of life with renewed vigor and resilience. I faced numerous challenges, both professionally and personally, but I approached each one with unwavering determination. I adapted to changing times, embraced new technologies, and honed my skills to stay relevant in an ever-evolving world.

Throughout this journey, I have learned to celebrate my victories and embrace my failures. Each success has given me moments of joy and fulfilled my sense of accomplishment, while each failure has taught me valuable lessons and pushed me to strive for better. Together, they have shaped me into the person I am today.

But what truly makes this rollercoaster ride worthwhile is the people who accompany you on the journey. Along the way, I have met incredible individuals who have become lifelong friends and mentors. Their presence has provided me with unwavering support, guidance, and inspiration, making the ups and downs easier to navigate.

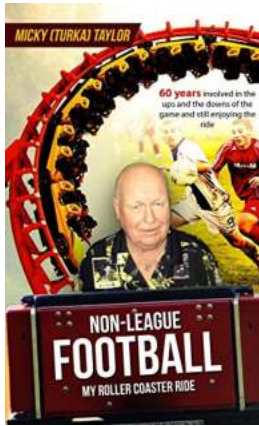

I have also had the privilege of mentoring and guiding others who are just starting their rollercoaster ride. Sharing my experiences, lessons, and wisdom with them has been a rewarding experience. Seeing them grow, succeed, and persevere fuels my passion and reminds me that the ride is worth it.

As I reflect on my 60 years of being involved in the ups and downs of life, I am grateful for the rollercoaster ride that has shaped me. It has taught me to embrace every moment, find the silver lining in every situation, and enjoy the thrill of the journey.

So, here's to another 60 years of embracing the highs and weathering the lows, knowing that as long as I am determined and passionate, I will continue to enjoy the ride, no matter what challenges come my way.

Life is indeed a rollercoaster, and I am ready for the next exhilarating drop.

Forget the premiership, forget the championship, forget football leagues 1 and 2 and to an extent, the national league, and forget professional referees. This is the true story of one man's love and involvement playing, managing, and scouting with non-league football, whether it be park football, Saturday, Sunday, F.A. youth representative football and all types of representative football, and good non-league senior clubs. All the fun, the sadness, the happy days, the dramas, the tv debut that lasted for a couple of years, my own football column in a local newspaper for years, and walking out with Surrey F.C. at Wembley. Also the chairmen, the non-league referees, some good, some bad, working hard on ground improvements and receiving no financial reward whatsoever, only the great memories that I wish to share with you in my book and relive my experiences as I believe as a football fan or player you would have at least experienced one, or if not some, of my situations. I am sure that when you start to read it, you will not want to stop, as every page has as near to the truth the thoughts from myself Micky (Turka) Taylor, the good, the bad and sometimes the bloody ugly side. This book is a must for all football fans, from grassroots football to top non-league and just maybe some of the followers of the overpaid, overpriced, premiership clubs and players who might just enjoy my ride of 60 years in the game’.
