The sport of athletics involves competitive running, jumping and throwing. The most common types of athletic competitions are track and field, road running, cross country running, and race walking.

The results of racing events are decided by finishing position while the jumps and throws are won by the athlete that achieves the highest or furthest measurement from a point of origin.

The simplicity of the competitions, and the lack of a need for expensive equipment, makes athletics one of the most commonly competitive sports in the world. Athletics is mostly an individual sport, with the exception of relay races and competitions which capture whether performance for a team score, such as cross country.
