A Journey into the Unknown

In 1840, David Livingston embarked on his first voyage to Africa, setting foot on the continent that would become his lifelong passion. His mission was twofold: to explore the uncharted territories and to spread the word of God among the indigenous people.

Exploration Adventures in Africa

Livingston's exploration adventures in Africa were filled with peril, hardships, and triumphs. He tirelessly navigated treacherous rivers, endured hostile weather conditions, and faced dangerous encounters with wildlife and tribal conflicts.

Discovering the Victoria Falls

One of the most remarkable achievements of David Livingston was his discovery of the stunning Victoria Falls in 1855. Overwhelmed by its grandeur, he named the falls after Queen Victoria, the reigning monarch at that time.

The Meeting with Henry Morton Stanley

After years of exploration, David Livingston faced numerous health issues and became isolated from the rest of the world in the heart of Africa. However, his story took an unexpected turn when the journalist and explorer Henry Morton Stanley found him near Lake Tanganyika in 1871.

Legacy and Impact

David Livingstone's legacy extends far beyond his remarkable expeditions. His unwavering commitment to improving the lives of Africans and abolishing the slave trade left an indelible mark on history.

Humanitarian Efforts

Livingston's humanitarian efforts cannot be overstated. As an advocate against the horrors of slavery, he actively campaigned for its abolition and worked relentlessly to establish legitimate trading routes in Africa. He firmly believed that commerce and Christian values could ultimately end the slave trade.

Inspiring Future Explorers

David Livingston's adventures captured the imagination of many aspiring explorers of his time. His feats inspired others to venture into the unknown, with Stanley himself dedicating the rest of his life to exploration upon witnessing Livingston's unparalleled determination and passion.

Blood Over Water: The captivating story of David Livingston is one that highlights the triumph of the human spirit in the face of adversity. His unwavering dedication to exploration, spirituality, and the African people forever immortalizes his name in the annals of history.

SHORTLISTED FOR THE BEST NEW WRITER CATEGORY OF THE BRITISH SPORTS BOOK AWARDS

On an overcast April day in 2003, David and James Livingston raced against each other in the 149th Oxford-Cambridge Boat Race. Watched by over seven million people, it was the first time for over a hundred years that brothers had battled against each other in this gladiatorial contest. Only one could be victorious.

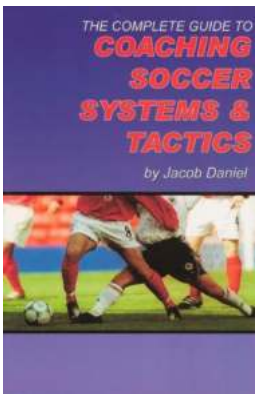

In Blood Over Water, David and James tell their stories for the first time, giving an intimate insight into one of our best-loved national sporting occasions, whilst also describing a brotherly relationship tested to breaking point. It is an emotional and searching joint self-portrait that looks at the darker side of sibling rivalry and asks just what you would be willing to sacrifice to achieve your dreams.
