You're in a heap of trouble, my man!

Danny Malone is not your typical 12 year old 6th grader. Sure, he's little, but growing. He gets his lunch money stolen by the class bully just like all the other little guys, but there's one thing about him that is a little different. He has a Black Belt in martial arts. He can't use what he knows though, because he had promised his dad, a Black Belt himself and U.S. Air Force Middleweight World Champion that he'll never use what he knows outside the Judo mat. A story about enough is enough in this exciting tale of what happened to Danny when he broke his promise to his dad.

Get this Amazon bestseller for just $2.99. Regularly priced at $4.99. Read on your PC, Mac, smart phone or Kindle device. This book is intended for middle grade readers and older.

What happens to Danny is fantastical and even magical, but who says it can't happen in this crazy world we live in!

What Readers Are Saying About Confessions of a Middle School Assassin:

- Wonderfully written story!
- Daniel is a small boy with the heart of a lion, but with the most deadly skills.
- I sat riveted to my chair as I read, and I just couldn't put the book down. I didn't want the story to end. It is that good. Guys! You will love this book. Ladies, you don't want to pass it up either. So good!
- This book has the making of a TV series.

I love Danny, the hero of this unique story. He's like every boy who's ever been picked on by the class bully, except Danny has a secret weapon, although not allowed by his father to use it - he has a black belt in martial arts. Can't wait for more Danny Malone.

- Perfect read! I loved this short book and hopes he plans on making this a series! I'm left wanting more.
- Malone's voice gives us the perspective of the young teenager and insights to the father/son relationship.
- He's like every boy who's ever been picked on by the class bully, except Danny has a secret weapon, although not allowed by his father to use it - he has a black belt in martial arts.

Literary Fiction comes to the 6th Grade

Author's Note:

You may know me from reading my mystery/action adventure novels, so this book may seem to be a bit of a departure to you. But it's really not. It has been said that all fiction is autobiographical, and this one is no exception. When you read this book and I hope you do, the boy Danny is me, at least the little guy in the Judo sequences who flips the big tank of an airman in the Judo demonstration. I was that little guy. And I went to Catholic school and had to wear a tie. The rest of it of course is pure fiction. Hope you like it.
