Two young women. A dis-united Kingdom. Opposing sides in a British civil war.

'This series is raising the standard for YA dystopian fiction, and I can't give it less than 5 stars' - AyJayPageFarer Book Blog

Bex Ellman and her friends are in hiding, sheltered by the resistance. With her family threatened and her friendships challenged, she's looking for a way to fight back. Ketty Smith is in London, supporting a government she no longer trusts. With her support network crumbling, Ketty must decide who she is fighting for – and what she is willing risk to uncover the truth.

The Battle Ground series is set in a dystopian near-future UK, after Brexit and Scottish independence.

I'm not a terrorist. I don't want to hurt anyone. But this is our chance to fight back.

I don't want this. I don't want violence and damage and death. I don't want blood on my hands.

I don't want to kill anyone.

But I don't think we have a choice.

I need to save Mum. I need to save our friends.

Everyone is waiting. I've told them what I think – what I want – and they've told me what we need.

I don't like it. I don't want anything to do with it. But it's my chance to make a difference.

It's our chance to win.

Slowly, I raise my hand, and add my vote to theirs.
