

North Western Pakistan and Kalashia Asia - A Hidden Gem

Imagine yourself in a world where ancient traditions blend seamlessly with breathtaking natural beauty. Where mountains stand tall and mighty, welcoming you to explore their hidden valleys and uncover the mysteries of a unique culture. Welcome to North Western Pakistan and Kalashia Asia, a region that is often overlooked but holds a treasure trove of wonders waiting to be discovered.

The Enchanting Kalash Valley

Tucked away in the remote mountains of North Western Pakistan lies the enchanting Kalash Valley. This isolated region is home to the Kalash people, a vibrant pagan community with a rich and colorful history. Known for their unique customs and rituals, the Kalash people have captivated visitors from all around the world.

As you make your way through winding mountain roads, you are greeted by picturesque views of terraced fields, traditional wooden houses, and the majestic Hindu Kush mountain range. The valley's vibrant greenery and pristine blue rivers create a tranquil atmosphere that is hard to find elsewhere.

The Kalash people are distinct with their fair skin, light eyes, and long hair. They have held on to their ancient traditions for centuries, keeping their unique culture alive. Festivals like the Chilim Jusht and Uchau celebrate the changing seasons, and locals don their traditional attire adorned with intricate embroidery and beads. Witnessing these celebrations is like stepping back in time and experiencing a world untouched by modernity.

While exploring the Kalash Valley, make sure to try the local delicacies. The Kalash people are known for their love of dairy products, and you can indulge in fresh cheese, butter, and yogurt. The flavors are distinct and will give your taste buds a unique experience.

The Majestic Beauty of North Western Pakistan

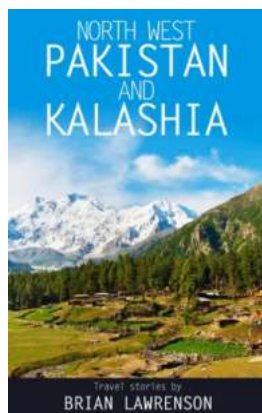

Beyond the Kalash Valley lies the untamed beauty of North Western Pakistan. This region is blessed with awe-inspiring landscapes that will leave you in awe. From the icy glaciers of the Biafo Glacier to the breathtaking mountain peaks of Nanga Parbat, there is an endless list of natural wonders waiting to be explored.

One of the highlights of North Western Pakistan is the Hunza Valley. This paradise is often referred to as heaven on earth and for a good reason. With its terraced fields, blooming apricot orchards, and crystal-clear lakes, it is a sight that will rejuvenate your soul. The towering Rakaposhi mountain watches over the valley, adding to the ethereal beauty of the landscape.

History enthusiasts will also find plenty to delve into in this region. The ancient Silk Road once passed through these lands, leaving behind traces of its vibrant trade history. From Buddhist rock carvings in Chilas to the historic settlement of Taxila, there are remnants of civilizations waiting to be uncovered.

To fully immerse yourself in the culture of North Western Pakistan, make sure to visit the bustling markets of Peshawar. Here, you can haggle for unique handicrafts, taste delicious street food, and witness the harmonious blend of different cultures that have influenced this region over the centuries.

North Western Pakistan and Kalashia Asia offer a glimpse into a world that is often overlooked by travelers. With its rich cultural heritage and breathtaking natural landscapes, this hidden gem is waiting to be discovered. Whether you are seeking adventure, tranquility, or a deeper understanding of different cultures, this region has it all. So, pack your bags, embark on a journey of a lifetime, and prepare to be mesmerized by the wonders of North Western Pakistan and Kalashia Asia.

Join a couples 12 day tour of North Western Pakistan, the Hunza Valley and Chitral in a 1974 vintage ex-army Jeep. Meet the people that they met along the way including the remote Kalashi people, who are believed to be the descendents of the soldiers of Alexander the Great. After you have read this account you'll feel like you've been to these tiny settlements on the Pakistan-Afghani border.

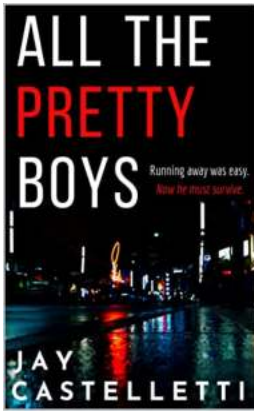

With the closure of the Karakorum Highway in January 2010 after a devastating landslide, the activities in the Swat Valley by the Taliban and the shattering floods of September, this account of the couples travels in this remote area of Pakistan is one of the few recent accounts of travels in Pakistan. It was a dramatic and at times heart-stopping adventure. Recommended to adventure travellers. Anyone who has read Greg Mortenson's books Three Cups of Tea and Stones into School will love this book.

This short travelogue is ideal reading for people that love travel and travel stories.
