Welcome to El Segundo, a vibrant city located in Los Angeles County, California. This hidden gem has a rich history that stretches back over a century, and its unique heritage can be explored through a captivating collection of images. Join us on a journey through time as we delve into the fascinating world of El Segundo, showcasing the beauty and stories behind every picture.

Discovering El Segundo: Unveiling the Past

El Segundo, meaning "The Second" in Spanish, holds a special place in the hearts of its residents. Initially, the land was a part of the Rancho Sausal Redondo, encompassing thousands of acres. In the early 1900s, the area attracted the attention of visionary industrialist Standard Oil, who established a refinery and townsite in what is now El Segundo. This marked the birth of a burgeoning community that would go on to play a significant role in America's industrial and aviation history.

The Images of America collection brings to life the earlier days of El Segundo, showcasing its evolution from a small refinery town to a bustling city. Experience the charm of Main Street, lined with quaint buildings and bustling shops that once catered to the refinery workers and their families. Transport yourself back in time through the lens of vintage photographs that highlight the sense of community and camaraderie that prevailed during this era.

By 1885, Daniel Freeman owned a successful 25,000-acre ranch along the coastline in Southern California. That year, he sold parcels to J.S. Vosberg, and this became the site of the town of El Segundo. The Standard Oil Company of California purchased 840 acres of dunes in June 1911, and R.J. Hanna was hired to construct and manage the new refinery. His wife is credited with naming the town El Segundo ("the second"), as it was the location of the second Standard Oil plant. The city quickly expanded and was incorporated on January 18, 1917. From an early oil town to the "Aerospace Capital of the World" in the mid-1950s, El Segundo today includes a thriving residential community as well as several Fortune 500 corporations, an Air Force base, and the Chevron El Segundo Refinery.
