After his highly acclaimed first book in the trilogy, the World's my Oyster, Daz is back with Book 2. We left our intrepid explorer shipwrecked in the picturesque bay of Baleeira on the south-west tip of Portugal with a broken boat and a broken heart. A year of introspection has passed since the loss of his beloved Hitrapia and Daz has decided to head back to sea. He no longer has a boat, but he won't let a mere detail like that stop him from following his dream of circumnavigating the globe. His new plan is to attempt the venture as crew aboard other skippers' yachts, but it's not all plain sailing. Daz Tait doesn't suffer fools gladly, and unfortunately some of the boats he finds himself on are skippered by said fools. In sailing, as in life, things rarely go to plan, so strap yourself in and prepare for a rough ride. In this book, Daz traces his steps halfway around the world from the Canary Islands to Australia. Exploring some of the most beautiful and unique places on earth including the Galapagos and the fabled islands of French Polynesia in the South Pacific. There are highs and lows, sharks and volcanoes, but never a dull moment as he's forced to overcome one challenge after another to keep his dream alive.
