The Great Wall of China, with its serpentine structure stretching for thousands of miles, stands as a testament to human determination and perseverance. As you walk along this architectural marvel, imagine the countless tales of triumph and tragedy that reside within its ancient stones.

Or perhaps you find yourself in the former capital of Laos, Luang Prabang, where the remnants of French colonial architecture stand in stark contrast to the surrounding Buddhist temples. With a rich history shaped by multiple influences, this UNESCO World Heritage Site has its own mesmerizing stories to share.

Savoring the Rarities

Backpacking in Asia presents countless opportunities to savor rarities that are unique to this part of the world. From mouthwatering street food to traditional rituals, these experiences will ignite your senses and leave you craving for more.

If you find yourself in Thailand, don't miss the chance to indulge in the flavorful wonders of Thai cuisine. From the tangy and spicy Tom Yum soup to the iconic Pad Thai, every bite is a burst of flavors that will tantalize your taste buds.

In India, be prepared to witness breathtaking ceremonies and traditions that have been preserved for centuries. From the colorful festivals of Holi and Diwali to the enchanting Aarti ceremony on the banks of the Ganges River, these rarities provide a glimpse into the vibrant cultural tapestry of the country.

Must-Visit Backpacking Destinations

When the lamp hit the wall we knew we needed a change. And change things we did. Very shortly afterwards we sold almost everything we owned, bought backpacks and boots and two one-way tickets to Bangkok Thailand. We didn't know when we were coming back or even where we would go but Bangkok was a start and we needed a new start. Living a quiet life in Denmark, we did what many people talked about doing. Our adventure was exciting and taught us that in order to know what you've got, you sometimes have to give it up. One thing we were not willing to give up was our marriage and so off we went. Written during the trip True Stories and Other Rarities: Backpacking Through Asia takes the reader on our adventure like it really was, which was not always beautiful, not always fun, but always surprising and full characters. Traversing the streets of Bangkok on foot, meeting new friends in Vietnam, hiking Nepal, sleeping in caves and trying to survive the streets of India. This is not your average adventure book, but our trip was not the average trip. We set off on one of our adventures with pie-in-sky ideas of how it was going to be. We were wrong. Note: a percentage of all proceeds from the sell of this book will go directly to Animal charities and sanctuaries.
