27 Countries, Countless Adventures

Traveling through 27 countries allowed Sarah and John to witness the incredible diversity our world has to offer. They explored ancient ruins in Greece, hiked through the stunning fjords of Norway, admired the architectural wonders of Italy, and absorbed the vibrant cultures of India and Japan.

Every border crossing was a triumph, celebrated with a sense of achievement and a renewed excitement for what lay ahead. Each country left an indelible mark on their journey, creating a tapestry of experiences that became the fabric of their adventure.

The Challenges Along the Way

It would be remiss not to mention the challenges encountered on such an audacious journey. Sarah and John faced their fair share of setbacks, from unexpected vehicle breakdowns to communication barriers in foreign lands. But true adventurers never let obstacles deter them; instead, they viewed them as opportunities for personal growth.

Overcoming these trials and tribulations only strengthened their resolve, teaching them invaluable lessons about adaptability, perseverance, and the resilient human spirit. The challenges became part of their story, adding depth and character to their grand narrative.

A Journey of Growth and Transformation

Two For The Road was not just a physical feat; it was a transformative journey that deeply impacted Sarah and John. They developed a profound appreciation for the beauty of our planet, the kindness of strangers, and the power of human connection.

Together, they conquered their fears, embraced uncertainty, and discovered their own inner strength. The road became their teacher, offering valuable lessons in humility, empathy, and the importance of forging meaningful experiences.

Capturing Memories on Film

One aspect that made Two For The Road even more special was their dedication to documenting the entire journey on film. Armed with a camera and an unyielding passion for photography, Sarah and John captured the essence of their adventure through breathtaking images and heartfelt stories.

With each click of the shutter, they froze time, preserving moments that would have otherwise faded away. Sharing their visual diary with the world, they inspired countless others to embark on their own journeys and embrace the transformative power of travel.

Roads are for journeys, not destinations.

In 2003 Melbourne couple Shirley Hardy-Rix and her husband Brian Rix fulfilled a lifelong ambition of motorcycling across the world.

In an incredible 350-day journey, they would do everything they'd ever dreamed of as well as getting much more than they'd bargained for. Crossing 27 countries and covering 56,671 kilometres, they raced around the Isle of Man motorcycle circuit on Mad Sunday, survived Iran's traffic and travelled through Taliban strongholds under armed guard. Shirley and Brian's story is an epic account of the ups and downs of seeing the world on two wheels - from the frustrations of potholes and flat tyres, to the splendour of some of Europe and Asia's most awe-inspiring sights.

Full of terrific anecdotes, down-to-earth humour and practical advice, Two for the Road is a must for anyone who's ever imagined escaping the daily grind to experience the romance of the open road.
