Jack London's 1906 novel explores the parallels and contrasts between the human and animal experience of suffering and triumph. Set in the late 1800s during the Klondike Gold Rush, London draws upon his own experience in the Yukon to tell the story of White Fang, a wolf-dog whose journey aligns with the human spirit of perseverance. This republication includes a reading group guide for students, educators, and parents. White Fang is a classic that should be read by all young people, as it is a reading of noteworthy substance and depth.
